SYKESVILLE - The vehicle of a missing Sykesville woman has been found, but she remains missing.

State police said the 1994 Saturn coupe belonging to Joey Lynn Offutt, 33, Sykesville, bearing Virginia registration of JXN8871 was located early Monday on Waupelani Drive in State College.

However, police continue to look for Offutt, who has been missing since her home at 90 Dr. Fugate Drive in Sykesville caught fire at approximately 4 a.m. Thursday.

Offutt is described as 5 feet, 3 inches tall, with a thin build and brown hair and brown eyes. Offutt has been officially declared a missing person and has been entered into the national crime information center database. Anyone coming in contact with Offutt or knows of her whereabouts, is asked to contact DuBois-based state police at 371-4652 or by calling 911.

According to a previous Courier-Express article, police discovered what are believed to be the remains of an infant child inside Offutt's home that was destroyed in the fire.

Police said in the course of the investigation, the remains were found. An autopsy has been scheduled to confirm the identity of the child and the manner of death. In an update released Monday, police said the autopsy results are not yet complete to confirm the identity of the child and/or the manner of death.

Police said a press conference will be held in the future as the investigation continues and information becomes available.
